The New #3776 CENTURY Fuji Series
Fuji Unkei “Uroko-Gumo”

To celebrate the release of Platinum Pen’s flagship model, the #3776 CENTURY, a series of fountain pens called “Fuji Five Lakes” was created from 2011 to 2016, followed by the “Fuji Shunkei” series from 2017 to 2021, which showcased the beautiful seasonal scenes of Mt. Fuji on the body of the pens using an advanced cutting technique. And now in 2023, a new series is being introduced: “Fuji Unkei.”

The New #3776 CENTURY Fuji Series
Fuji Unkei “Uroko-Gumo”

Inspired by the incredible scenery of Mt. Fuji surrounded by wispy clouds, this series is designed to capture this natural wonder using a variety of decorative techniques. The debut pen in the Fuji Unkei series is the “Uroko-Gumo.”

Leveraging a New Decorative
Cutting Technique

The body of the new fountain pen has been cut into an irregular pattern in contrast to the regular patterns featured on the Fuji Shunkei series in order to capture the beauty and uniqueness of cirrocumulus clouds (“Uroko-Gumo” in Japanese). Incorporating slight indentations on the body produces a complex play of light and reflection on the pen body, creating a natural, beautiful aesthetic. The shadows cast by light passing through the body of the pen are reminiscent of cirrocumulus clouds and are sure to captivate.

First Bi-Color Design

For the first time in the #3776 CENTURY series, Uroko-Gumo features a bi-colored design with different colors for the cap and body. The stylish dark blue-grey cap represents the surface of Mt. Fuji colored by seasons and time while the contrasting clear body features an intricately carved design.

Dome

The nut inside the dome honors Mt. Fuji and is the signature of the Fuji series. The serial number is engraved on the dome.

“Aka-Fuji” Ink for the Fuji Unkei series

Gaifu Kaisei (South Wind, Clear Sky), also known as Aka-Fuji (Red Fuji), from the series thirty-six Views of Mt. Fuji by Katsushika Hokusai

Aka-Fuji ink on paper
The ink can appear from green to reddish depending on the lighting.
※Appearance may vary depending on paper and amount of ink.

The #3776 CENTURY Fuji Unkei series comes with a 20ml-bottle of specially blended Aka-Fuji ink to commemorate its release. Aka-Fuji (i Red Fuji) - which takes its name from the famous painting “Gaifu Kaisei,” also known as Aka-Fuji, by Katsushika Hokusai, a well-known Japanese artist and ukiyo-e painter and printmaker of the Edo period - features a unique gradation where the green color appears to change to a reddish tint with the addition of light, thereby mimicking the painting.

The ink bottle cap features a three-dimensional illustration with the motif of Mt. Fuji with clouds.
